MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION IN SUSTAINABLE ENERGY MANAGEMENT (MBA SEM)

INTRODUCTION

Sustainability is a buzzword today, but not without a valid reason. Depleting resources accelerated by the triple planetary crises that include climate change, pollution and loss in biodiversity are the biggest challenge facing the world today. World is in a race to save the planet from the above challenges and needs low carbon foot print, low water footprint, reduced pollution and in sequence, advanced technology to balance the growing demand with limited resources. In effect, 'circular economy' that promotes resource conservation, reduction, recycling, recovery and reuse of resources and materials is gaining popularity at the national and global level as a holistic solution to minimize emissions and consumption of raw materials and to improve resource efficiency. This in turn is opening up new market prospects and in principle increasing the sustainability of consumption. All these phenomena have led to rapid increase in public and investor awareness, coupled with the emergence of policies driving decarbonization and promotion of Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) measures for organizations. In retrospect, investments in green technologies across the globe have increased to $755 billion in 2021 and the global green tech and sustainability market which is currently valued at over $10 billion is expected to reach over $74 billion by 2030 (Allied market research report, 2020). In tune with the growing trend, NICMAR University leads the sustainability mission to sensitize young minds and train professionals by offering the niche programme on Master of Business Administration in Sustainable Energy Management (MBA SEM) from the School of Energy and Environment.

"Energy Management" is undeniably one of the fundamental issues associated with the world's sustainable development goal that is currently receiving the highest priority. With the growing energy demand, a clean energy revolution is taking place around the world, transitioning from fossil fuel energy sources including oil, gas and natural gas to renewable energy sources including solar, wind, bio-energy and hydrogen. Efforts to find ways to most efficiently utilize energy and to advance the use of clean and renewable alternative energy have increasingly gained traction both by government and the industry. There is tremendous economic opportunity for the countries that innovate, manufacture and export clean energy technologies. Strong government support through a mix of push policies and pull mechanisms has propelled India to be one of the leaders in the world's most attractive sustainable energy markets. In tune with this and taking proactive steps, several companies in India are responding to the demanding and versatile scenario in the energy sector by moving towards net carbon-zero targets. However, energy security, the gap between the demand and supply, is imbalanced as we advance economic development and improve on citizen's lifestyle. Managing energy sustainably is the way forward to improve energy security, improve access to affordable energy and mitigate climate change. India cares for the planet and has taken a ground-breaking journey in sustainable energy through "Abhinav Soch - Nayi Sambhawanaye," which means Innovative ideas - New possibilities.

This Master level program has been crafted with intense deliberation with industry and academic experts to address the vital need for up-skilling employees in the field of energy management. The multi-disciplinary MBA SEM builds upon the concepts and methodologies for executing, controlling and monitoring energy-related processes and projects to conserve energy resources, protect the climate, and save energy costs. The scope of energy management encompasses conventional energy extraction, supply, consumption of energy resources, power generation to transmission and distribution and pervades across consumers including agriculture, construction, services and mobility. This diverse scope of sustainable energy management demands interdisciplinary nature of the professional skill-set requiring a blend of technical, project, financial and management skills. However, the present skill gap is affecting the energy transition developments. Hence, there is a need for more specialized work force with techno-managerial expertise for carbon neutral future to becoming a reality. Sustainable Energy Management fields include, but are not limited to sustainable development, carbon capture usage and storage, renewable energy systems and conventional fuels value chain, along with energy system analysis, life cycle assessment and asset management, energy integration and transition. There are challenges in this roadmap. Technological and financial awareness, education and training for skilled manpower are some of the major obstacles that the industry faces. In the above context, NICMAR University Pune has responded proactively to the market need and has taken a lead in offering an MBA Programme in Sustainable Energy Management from academic year 2023. It combines theory with practice and facilitates analytical learning through the programme's academic structure. In tune with this, the MBA SEM program will be unique and add value as it will also provide guidance for aspiring students for professional certification courses which is more sought after by leading organizations world-wide. Thus, young entrants and working professionals alike hold better chance to enhance and hone their skills through this one-of-a-kind programme in the country. The programme is completely employer focused and the candidate can choose career pathways that include (both in India and abroad) diverse domains like Energy, Power, Infrastructure, Manufacturing, Mobility etc. and in multiple job profiles like Performance monitoring, Analytics, Project delivery, Operations, Marketing, Business development etc. in addition to Research and Consultancy.

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

The MBA in Sustainable Energy Management program is thoughtfully curated and designed after series of deliberations with industry leaders and experts in academia.

The students are offered a wide choice of courses to suit their career interests and goals and develop skills as energy auditors and managers, assistant project or project managers and coordinators, field or residential energy specialists, energy analysts, marketing executives, energy monitoring and performance engineers, sustainability coordinator or officer; clean energy and sustainable energy managers to work with energy and power sector stakeholders like Energy production and distribution companies, Engineering and project consultancy and Construction companies, Service and manufacturing companies and Government agencies.

MBA in Sustainable Energy Management program has a curriculum design that broadly falls under the following streams:

The first-year curriculum includes various program core courses that broadens the perspective on the existing energy eco-system under the sustainability domain. Also, few general management courses are added to improve students' understanding of key aspects in business management and communication. During the second year, the specialised areas of industry are introduced to develop in-depth knowledge in the field of conventional and renewable energy sources. The theoretical courses aim to improve the students' understanding of fundamental principles with embedded tutorials to apply the concepts. Practice workshops and energy measurement laboratory is introduced in the second semester for hands-on training and learning.

Practical experience is gained through summer internship for a mandatory period of 8-10 weeks. It is further strengthened by the project work undertaken by the students that spans from Semester II to Semester IV. Research oriented courses such as research methodology develop the ability for a methodical and scientific analysis of an industry pertinent problem and enhance report writing skills.

The third and fourth semester have advanced courses offered as programme electives apart from programme cores for an in-depth knowledge of domain at national and global level and also to develop proficiency in advanced topics such as innovations in digital infrastructure in the field. These courses also include software laboratories to upskill the students. Few of the programme electives are specially designed in association with industry leaders and are therefore sector specific and industry relevant. The curriculum is blended with seminar series to inculcate Entrepreneurship skills and is inclusive of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOC), an initiative by the Government of India. The curriculum is thus a blend of theoretical and applied courses focusing to prepare professionals to be industry acquiescent.

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

The curriculum is organized into four semesters. The students are exposed to various theory courses, tutorials, and practical hands-on training. The students will complete the requisite credits to complete the PG Programme. The semester-wise distribution of course and credit is indicated in Table 1.

Courses

Typically, a two-credit course involves 30 hours of teaching. The courses may sometimes be of one credit or 3 to 4 credits depending on the content. The courses may include tutorial/practical components for hands-on training. The courses are divided into various categories to ensure the all-round development of students and provide adequate depth and breadth of knowledge. The courses may be divided into the categories such as General Core (GC), Programme Core (PC), General Elective (GE), Programme Elective (PE), Domain Elective (DE), Studio, Field Visit, Seminar, Lab, Practical, Workshop etc. In addition, the curriculum includes Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) and Self-Learning courses to foster lifelong learning. It also incorporates project-based courses such as social immersion, community services, study tour, capstone project, research project, mini or minor project or entrepreneurial project to facilitate experiential learning. For the Massive Open Online Course (MOOC), students must register, clear the exam conducted by the organizing body (such as SWAYAM or NPTEL etc.), and submit the certificate showing the % marks obtained to claim the credits.

Summer Internship

As part of the curriculum, each student has to undergo supervised field training of 6 credits after semester 2 with a reputed firm for 8 to 10 weeks. Given the on-the-job training, the student is also expected to perform specific regular duties on the project, as assigned by the respective organization. Organizations for practical training are carefully selected from reputable firms. Based on their performance, students may receive Pre-Placement Offers (PPO). Essentially, the University seeks meaningful and supervised work experience for its students. Students may opt to work on assignment-based project topics. At the end of the summer internship, students must submit a report for evaluation.

PEDAGOGY

NICMAR University believes that the method of instruction may vary from course to course; therefore, it uses a host of pedagogical approaches such as case studies, lectures, group and individual exercises, class projects, studio, flip classes and simulation to enrich the overall programme delivery. Further, site and field visit, study tours, and expert talks are organized across different courses.

The total credits may be further classified into Lecture (L), Tutorial (T), and Practical (P). In the lecture sessions, students are familiarized with the course's concepts and knowledge. The tutorial components help students better understand the concepts through problem-solving, case analysis, or hands-on practice. The practical component is designed for exclusive hands-on training

ASSESSMENT

Course Evaluation

The course evaluation comprises two parts: The semester-end examination and the internal assessment. The weightage for the same is given below.

Evaluation	Weightage (%)
Term End Examination	50
Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA)	50

The term end examination is only for courses with an L component and shall be of 1 or 2 hours long.

Continuous Internal Assessment (CIA)

Continuous Internal assessment (CIA) is the continuous evaluation of a candidate's performance throughout the course and is conducted by the concerned faculty member. For a course with a Term-end examination, 50% weightage is assigned to the internal evaluation. This internal evaluation of candidates shall be carried out by at least three components, of which the Unit test component is mandatory. For all courses, the Unit test will carry 40% weightage of marks (20 Marks). This will be conducted during the tenth week of the semester, and the syllabus will cover material up to that point. The fifth week of the semester will be Internal Assessment 1 (IA1), and the last week of the term will be Internal Assessment 2 (IA2). The syllabus for IA1 will run until the fifth week, and the syllabus for IA2 will run from the Unit test until the last week of the semester (i.e., 15th week). For IA1 and IA2, the faculty can select any of the following components.

The IA1 and IA2 may have the following components:

- Class-participation
- Case analysis and presentation
- Quizzes/ Class test/Surprise test/Assignments (announced/unannounced)
- Term papers/Decision sheets/Project reports
- Research Paper Presentations/Viva
- Individual assignments/Group assignments/Presentations/Decision sheets
- Field project
- Role Play/Simulation
- Any other school/program/course-specific component

Summer internship and project work

The summer internship is assessed solely by the internal faculty. A summer internship carries 100 marks and is assessed during the third semester. The weightage assigned is 40% for report writing, 40% for presentation and 20% for question answers.

Students' project work (Seminar and Interim assessment) is evaluated by the assigned guide and an internal faculty (this is done at the end of the 2nd and 3rd semesters). The final viva voce is evaluated by the guide and an industry expert or by faculty members from the other institute.

Failure Cases

NICMAR University's programmes are highly demanding, and students of a high caliber are admitted through a rigorous evaluation. Consequently, every student is expected to complete the procedure in all subjects and submit their project work promptly unless there are legitimate grounds for delay. A student is declared 'Pass' in a course if they score at least 40% marks in internal and semester-end examinations individually.
If any student fails to obtain the minimum passing marks in the internal or semester-end examination, they will be declared fail. Such a student will have to reappear for the examination by paying the re-examination fee of Rs. 2000/- per course and obtaining the minimum passing marks to qualify.Similarly, non-submission of project work on time is not acceptable. A candidate is not considered to have completed the programme unless they submit the project report, which is judged satisfactory by the guide and awarded the required ratings by the examiner/s appointed for the purpose.

If the students wish to have their examination paper (s) re-evaluated, this can be done on payment of the re-evalution fee of Rs. 1000/- per course.

Grading System

Evaluation will be done on a semester basis. A Semester Grade Point Average (SGPA) and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) will be calculated at the end of every semester. Students should complete all courses to meet the program requirements.

Award

On successful completion of all the pre requisite requirements, the eligible student will be awarded the entitled with specialization if any.
